Chief Charles Gruber

Chief Gruber's career in law enforcement spans more than 36 years with 30 years as a Chief of Police. He is Past President of the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) and the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police.

Chief Gruber was appointed by the federal district court as part of a team of legal and policing experts to monitor compliance with the negotiated settlement agreement between the City of Oakland, California and private plaintiffs pertaining to pattern and practice claims filed against the Oakland Police Department. Concurrently, he is retained by the U.S. Department of Justice Civil Rights Division to investigate alleged pattern & practice abuses in several police departments. Like much of Chief Gruber's work, the DOJ reviews include assessments of numerous officer-involved shootings and use of force issues.

Chief Gruber holds a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology and received his Master's Degree in Police Administration. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy, Law Enforcement Executive Development Seminar, National Executive Institute, and the Southern Police Institute at the University of Louisville.

Chief Gruber is a decorated law enforcement executive and has received many distinguished service awards. While heading the Shreveport Police Department, he received national attention for his leadership role in preventing use of force by his officers while containing a two-day riot within the city. Chief Gruber was awarded the Paul Lynch Award for his contribution to the advancement of Shreveport's civil rights movement by containing and de-escalating the riot without resort to force. He has been the recipient of numerous other awards including Law Enforcement Officer of the Year by the U.S. Marshals Service, and the International Association of Chiefs of Police Civil Rights Award.
